Sunday evening.

Dear Lucia,

I write a line in great haste; I did not know till a minute or two ago that Harvey was going out to night. Last night or rather afternoon Garrison & Johnson called, said that for the present Johnson was going to N.Y. to edit the Standard. Ultimately Rogers will go but at present he cannot. Henrietta & Catherine called, all in tears at taking leave of Mrs Cobden. I have been to church all day & heard Dr Taylor - This morning he preached very well, but did not preach this afternoon - The church was very well filled - After meeting Mr Ripley and Mr Clarke of Louisville called - they wished to talk over Community of goods I believe - I will see about your shoes & keep on writing as well as I can - I shall leave home & to write to you know. Best love to all, to Aunt Mary, tell her I shall write to her the first chance. I suppose I shall stay till Deborah returns

Yrs in haste
